

Untitled

Step up out of the darkness, suddenly
The music becomes everything.
In an instant the entirety of my mind, my body
Is in the music
My eyes lift to the ceiling.
Light.
When the notes falling all around
Become my whole world
When every beat, every rise and fall of that ocean—
The rain—
Surround, penetrates,
Seeps into my soul with the perfect
Crystal clarity, as diamonds were
Purely, I am happy.
